This Is the Best Suit Case We Have Ever Seen for the Money

There's a sale of suit cases and traveling bags tomorrow which offers several of the best bargains we have seen in this line. Take this suit case for example:

Made of the best quality cowhide, heavily and properly, with big, sub-stantial brass buckles and lock. The kind of suit case that marks the traveler as a man of substance and pros-perity. Everything about it is heavy and strong and fine looking. The straps, for instance, are half again wider than those usually used. Made just as well inside as it is outside. As good as any $8 suit case seen. Tomorrow's price $5.95 good as any $8 suit case we have ever (Third Floor, Rear.)

"Milliner" Even the Dignified "Milliner' Enthusiastic and Says: Grows

"The hats that Siegel Cooper Co. is selling at $5 are those that usually retail at $8 and $10!"

The Milliner" is one of the organs of the millinery trade. It's hard to get professional experts excited about a retail store's values, but our $5 hats have astonished the whole millinery world.

We have never sold so many hats at $5 at this time of year before—not by one-half.

You can't understand how good these hats are until you come and look them over. And that is a delightfully long job—we seldom have less than 300 on hand to look at—no two alike.
